

Alexa Blu Productions L.L.C.

An Affluence Company

Certainly one of the most integral elements of any successful event is the music. Melodic sounds have an undeniable power that can set the mood, create the vibe and leave a lingering memory.

Robin Alexis, Principal Executive of Alexa Blu Productions knows all about getting the mood just right. She is an accomplished vocal talent whose voice has been heard nationally on Ed McMahon's Star Search and other syndicated television shows. For more than 15 years, Ms. Alexis has been the featured vocalist with a variety of bands performing for corporate events, formal weddings and other private parties. Her pure vocals have also graced the city's hottest clubs, hotels and festivals including appearances at the House of Blues, the Cotton Club, the Drake Hotel and the Taste of Chicago.

With the advent of Alexa Blu Productions, a member of The Affluence Group, Ms. Alexis offers a wide variety of adult contemporary musical entertainment including; background music, classic jazz, ballads, swing, smooth R&B flavored jazz, neosoul, Chicago blues and inspirational. The fine musicians and artists offered by Alexa Blu Productions have been specially selected by Ms. Alexis and are among the most exceptional in the business.

Before choosing the perfect talent for your distinctive occasion, our event consultants will determine exactly what kind of atmosphere you want your event to create. Our music ensembles are available in various configurations including; solo pianists, duos, trios, quartets, dinner dance bands, orchestras, harpists and chamber music. As a result, you'll be sure to have the unique sound you imagine. What's more, our consultants will take additional care to ensure that the required investment is in line with your stated budget.

For a complete experience, Alexa Blu Productions can fully produce your singular affair. We have proven expertise in all aspects of event design and management including venue selection, promotions, audio/visual systems, and lighting and technology. Entrusting your entire project to us is an excellent option. The result will be reduced operating and overhead costs, less stress and anxiety for you and a superb, high quality event.
